

Interview Project Release Form

Oral History in the Liberal Arts Undergraduate Research

Antioch College student _____ is conducting an interview project focused on _____.

This effort is intended to deepen student learning. The full interview, or excerpts from it, may be published, incorporated in original writing, or produced into audio/visual productions for educational purposes. This may include public presentations, online digital projects with a broad public audience, and creative works such as essays or written accounts. By my signature below, I (we) consent to participate in an audio or video recorded interview and allow the use of the recorded audio/video materials (or transcriptions thereof) in productions for any educational purposes in perpetuity without further consideration from me.

The interview, recorded on _____, is an unrestricted gift to student _____ . I (we) hereby intend to transfer legal title and all intellectual property rights which I (we) possess in such interview or recording, including copyright. I understand that photographs, video, audio footage, and testimonials resulting from this recorded interview may be incorporated into public works, broadcast at public events, and/or become accessible online and in blog posts. I consent to any future archive arrangements for this interview and its associated media and materials.
